

NUMBER 91, DECEMBER 2017

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT DAVE

Dear 41 Club Members,

I can't believe I'm already two-thirds the way through my year - and what a year it's been!

Thank you all, for the fantastic way that I have been welcomed when visiting clubs. I have many happy memories of the different events and places I have visited, the fellowship is always the same and runs throughout the Association, this is what makes our club so special.

Pauline has accompanied me on many visits and I thank the ladies for looking after her whilst I have been at meetings.

I have particularly embraced the opportunity to be home hosted at most events. This is a wonderful way to get to know fellow 41 Club members and their partners and I would like to thank each and every one of them for the warmth and friendship they have shown. My volunteer drivers have also been welcomed and I know they have enjoyed the opportunities to visit different clubs. It always great to have their company along the many long journeys I have made. Thanks must also go to Hyundai who have sponsored my car.

Your National Council has been working hard this year to manage the Association and to take it forward in a positive direction. Teamwork is essential and I am very grateful to my fellow Board members and Regional Councillors who have worked tirelessly throughout the year. Joining Council is an opportunity to get to know the Clubs in your region and contribute to the smooth running of the whole Association, so I would urge you to consider taking on the role.

I was proud to present a wreath during the Cenotaph ceremony on behalf of 41 Club, alongside my fellow Presidents, Steve Grew, Melodie Brookes and Ginette May. It is a humbling opportunity and a time to reflect. At this time of year, there are many people who may not be in a good place, they often find that the season highlights their difficulties. Please consider offering your time to help those less fortunate, especially by supporting those activities being arranged by 41 Club, Round Table, Tangent or Ladies Circle.

My presidential Charity this year is the Prince's Trust. I chose this because it seeks to offer practical and emotional support to young vulnerable people, giving them an opportunity to thrive. The Prince's Trust, believes that 'Youth Can Do It' and I know 41 Club can make a difference. If you would like find out how you can help, please contact me at president@41club.org

Pauline and I would like to take this opportunity to wish each and every one of you and your families, a wonderful Christmas and a very happy and peaceful New Year.

In Continued Friendship

Dave
National President 2017-18

WHAT'S NEW?

So, what have you been doing lately? Do you have anything interesting planned? Maybe you think that it won't be of any interest to anyone outside of your club, but how will you know unless you say something about it?

Try it!

The team that I head is always eager to hear about your events and your projects, and publishing the information here is a good way to garner support for them.

The copy date for the January 2018 newsletter is Friday December 29th.

BISHOP'S STORTFORD ON TOUR (AGAIN!)

Our seventh overseas trip saw 10 intrepid travellers off to Palma on a Wednesday in mid-October for 3 days (yes 3 days for the first time!). Our own travel guru Paul "the map" Tarran had yet again made all the arrangements and all we had to do was turn up at the airport. Stansted to Palma after a 'healthy' breakfast in Wetherspoons to start the day. After arrival and a well-deserved beer or two outside our hotel we walked into the centre of town to find a lunch time Tapas. Afterwards a bit of meandering around where some visited the cathedral and others just wandered for the afternoon. The evening started with pre-dinner drinks on the Chairman Allan's balcony overlooking the marina. "Bring your own drinks and glasses" was the instruction and dutifully we bought sufficient wine for the week! By use of his favourite app Simon "trip advisor" Thomas led us to a great Italian restaurant for dinner and after a slow amble back towards the hotel it was suggested we stop off for refreshment at the Irish bar where the banter continued until....well, late.

Thursday morning was a bit rainy to be honest but the intrepid organiser had sorted out a train trip. How could we not have guessed! This time though on a wooden train through and over the mountain from Palma to Soller and then onto the wooden tram down into the port. The rain did clear a bit at the top of the mountain to enable us to get good views and we entertained other passengers with a constant stream of banter. Rob "the trainman" Walton was fascinated by the track and Ian "electric" Slocombe talked to himself about the currents or something that no-one else understood. Ian "the camera" Harding kept on taking photo's but many of them aren't printable in a family newsletter. There wasn't much to do in Puerto de Soller in the rain so after a moment's thought, only a fleeting moment, we decided to head for the bar, or marquee on the port side. It was empty but the owner was delighted to welcome us, switched on the heaters, managed not to pour the water that had gathered on the roof over our table and provided refreshment. Paul had coffee. Well he would have done if the waitress had remembered to bring it amongst the clamour for beers. So having kick-started the bar's day and helped fill it up for her we left to ringing thanks and headed back to the tram and train back to Palma.

Thursday evening was again a great success. The rain had stopped by this time and after another drinks do on Paul's balcony this time to finish off the previous night's wine we set off for town again. Ollie had found a restaurant the night before that he thought we would like and booked it. Fortunately for him we did like it and had a great night. The Irish bar called on us to stop again on the way back and it would have been rude not to. Allan was the target for our "friendly" hat seller and after some negotiation we bought a Chairman's bow tie complete with flashing lights from the kitty. Now it's not for me to say how, or even why, (what goes on tour stays on tour!) but for some reason the bow tie seemed to end up around the neck of a very friendly welsh lady at a nearby table and the chairman ended up with a rose in his teeth before being carried off by the rest of us back to the Hotel.

Friday was a beautiful sunny day. "So who's up for a Segway tour" announced Simon. I've booked us all on a trip this morning. A few strange glances, muttered comments of "no way" and we were off. In the end all 10 of us took up the challenge. No meandering around a private park this. After a brief lesson to ensure no-one could fall off, or that they could manage to go uphill and round corners we were away. A brilliant way to see the city on the wide pavements, round the cathedral, through the streets "Mind the cars", and lots of looks at the views. Yes all of them Allan, but I promised no photos! Everyone agreed it had been fantastic. And there was more to come. Sailor boy Rob had discovered a 1 hour boat tour of the fantastic port and off we all went again in the afternoon. A brilliant trip round the 3,000 berth port. The largest private ship, apparently Saudi, had reputedly cost £100Million.

So there we were finished, back at the hotel just in time for a quick beer before getting the taxi's back to the airport and home. What a brilliant time we all had and the banter kept going throughout. It was summed up by a circulating e-mail from Chairman Allan the following day.

"A few words of congratulations to all of you for making our visit to Palma an unforgettable and enjoyable experience.

"Thanks Paul for putting it all together so well, thanks to Simon for stupidly suggesting our Segway experience which turned out to be brilliant,

"And thanks to Rob for turning us all into sailors

"All in all a remarkable couple of days, it brought home to me the reasons for the existence of Round Table and 41 Club.

"Well done all"

That says it all. Without Round Table and 41 Club we would never have experienced this together. So the only question yet again is? Where next year and top that.

COMMUNITY SERVICE IN 41 CLUB

We are well over half way through the 41 Club year so I thought that I would give members a brief Community Service update:

Dave Campbell reports that his fundraising for the Prince's Trust is going very well. I was with him at Oxford when around £1400 was raised in one night, with support from Barclays Bank, who matched the £700 raised. As well as fundraising, I know that the Prince's Trust is in need of "mentors". These mentors are just people like you and me who have had some business and life experiences, which they can pass on to disadvantaged young people starting up in business. So let's have some volunteers from 41 Club. I saw first-hand what a superb charity this is when I attended their Awards Ceremony in Birmingham with President Dave and Pauline back in November. It can be very rewarding, as a mentor, to see these young people progress with your help. Contact David on president@41club.org or myself.

Look out for a charity called PTSD, who help people affected by this debilitating mental disorder. They deal direct with clients in your area and match up Counsellors with patients. Surprisingly to me, quite a large percentage of people make a good recovery after prompt treatment. It may be that someone near you needs help.

41 Club International has been fundraising for the victims of Italian earthquakes a couple of years ago. International 41 Clubs have already raised a considerable amount of money to rebuild houses and community centres. 41 Club

GB&I did not make a contribution to this fund, because National Council has taken the view that members did not pay subscriptions to support charities at home or abroad. Having said that individual members or clubs can support such appeals when then occur. Take a look at the 41 International Newsletter, to which there is a link in each of our newsletters.

We are still looking for a Community Service initiative for this year, so if anyone knows of a good project with National appeal, please contact me.

I hope members still support those charities close to our hearts such as Anthony Nolan and RTCW. Bonfire Night and Children in Need saw Tablers around the country getting off their backsides and helping raise an incredible amount. I was pleased to see on social media that a number of 41 Clubbers helped on this. For those clubs that still have Round Tables, please support them with their Caroling and Santa Sleighs – they need help and we can give it.

Finally, if any of you out there have done some fundraising or Community Service this year, please send an article about it to pastpresident@41club.org and comms@41club.org The editor will use it!

Have a great Christmas

We are therefore asking members interested in standing for this International position to come forward.

Nomination forms will be made available shortly. They must be sent to the National Secretary Sean McCormick by January 31st 2018 at midnight and, in the event of there being more than one candidate, a vote will take place at the AGM in Belfast on April 14th 2018.

LIVERPOOL CHILDWALL 41 CLUB'S 50TH CHARTER

And

Liverpool Childwall Round Table 644 Reunion Night

On the evening of the 3rd November 2017, Liverpool Childwall 41 Club held its 50th anniversary charter dinner along with a reunion night for all past members of Liverpool Childwall 644 Round Table.

Liverpool Childwall 41 Club was formed in 1967 and our official affiliation date, according to the National 41 Club Archivist, Hugh Milward, was the 3rd October 1967.

In line with one of the principal objectives of our 41 Club organisation: "To continue the friendships established in Round Table", the evening was a great success with 33 attending.

Honoured members for the evening were one of our 41 Club founder members and its second chairman in 1969, Brian Watt, still a strong supporter and attender to our club for over 50 years along with two similarly long-serving members: Gordon Salmon, who was our 41 Club chairman in 1976/7, and John Lloyd, who was chairman our 41 Club in 1978/9. They, too, regularly attend our monthly meetings.

We raised our glasses to toast them and they started an informative and humorous recount of both the formation of our club and its early days along with amusing anecdotes, which started off a chain of such antics from all the members present.

Unfortunately, Liverpool Childwall Round Table 644 folded in 2013 despite the energetic activities of its final few members to keep the club going by trying to find new members. Like many Round Tables, interest in such organisations as ours has dwindled over the past decades as competition for peoples' time from other social activities, many more personal than collective, has contributed to its demise.

There have been 55 Liverpool Childwall Round Table chairmen, with several members having held the office on more than one occasion. Similarly there have been fifty-one Childwall 41 Club chairmen, also with several members having held the office more than once.

We finished the evening with our National 41 Club toast "May the hinges of friendship never rust". Our reunion night was an evening when those hinges were well and truly "oiled".

A good time was had by all – may we long continue!!

IT'S HAPPENING IN KENT!

On Friday 20th October Margate and Invicta 41 Clubs supported Margate RT's Wine & Wisdom evening where proceeds were to be donated to local good causes.

Invicta came joint 4th place on the evening. Well, the questions were all about things that happened in the 90's onwards...

New members inducted by Chairman Don Atfield at Invicta 41 Club's Speaker Meeting on 23/10/2017 (L to R):

Ron Shea – Ex-Welling RT and also a member of Vigo Village and Northwest Kent 41

Matt Hudson – Ex-Ramsgate RT and currently the Area 16 Kent RT Hon. President

Tony Durham – Ex-Ashford RT and currently resurrecting Folkestone 41 Club

Studley – Ex-Dartford RT and also a member of the OBE 41 Club

During my visits it's interesting to see which clubs have their own badges, shirts or T-shirts with club logos embroidered onto them; and if the members are actually wearing them.

Round Tables notoriously organised their own club logos, badges & banners and T-shirts with details of the member and club embroidered onto it. In more recent times Area 16 - Kent RT has encouraged each RT to have different coloured T-shirts. In earlier times some went to greater lengths and had their own club shirts and blazers.

A lot of 41 Clubs don't have their own club badges or banners, but this seems to be changing as new members are joining. Badges still seem to be as collectable as ever.

Most 41 Club Chairmen are still wearing their jewels at meetings which is great to see and most clubs still require formal dress when attending meetings. Medals of past offices are worn by some at meetings but they are mostly worn by most at AGM's and special events.

Round Table has moved away from wearing medals and now issue pin badges of office and past office holders. RT Chairmen still wear their jewels but because they are now getting very old and heavy (Ed: the jewels, that is!) they may only choose to wear them to AGMs and official functions.

As RT members retire and join 41 Club they bring with them some 'customary' behaviour such as 'Taking Regalia'. The reason for this custom is to get the victims to visit the club in order to recover their regalia and encourage inter-club fellowship.

It seems that the bigger the item of regalia, the sweeter the challenge! Although this very laddish behaviour can be fun, it tends not to be well received by some clubs. RT and 41 Club obviously do not accept any responsibility for taking of regalia, damage, loss or replacement.

There are some rules to the 'taking of regalia' which are, as I understand it, as follows:

- Careful consideration must be given as to what is being taken. If in doubt you should check with one of the members before you leave in case it causes problems or upsets. If in any doubt then please don't take it!
- Personal property or property not belonging to the 41 Club does not count as regalia and must not be taken. It may be regarded by the owner and the law as theft.
- The person who has the 'stolen' regalia in their possession is required to formally notify the owner of the property WITHIN 24 hours. Failure to notify the victim of the regalia being purloined could cause issues if they contact the police or their insurers, so it is vital that they are informed as soon as possible.
- If the owners of the 'stolen' regalia have received formal notification within 24 hours they will be required to attend a mutually convenient meeting or event of the 'thieves' choosing in order to collect it.
- If the owners of the 'stolen' regalia have NOT received formal notification within 24 hours then the 'Thieves' will be required to attend a mutually convenient meeting or event of the 'victims' choosing in order to take it back. If the regalia is urgently needed then it's the responsibility of the 'Thieves' to get it back to them on time or they will be held liable for any costs incurred.

- The persons with the stolen regalia are responsible for its safety and security. They will be of course liable for any loss or damage.
- RT and 41 Club insurers may refuse to accept liability for loss or damage so you should check that you/your clubs have adequate insurance before taking regalia.

70 YEARS OF SERVICE TOGETHER IN LLANDRINDOD WELLS

It has been a unique occasion for two service clubs in Llandrindod Wells. In recent weeks the local Round Table has celebrated the 40th Anniversary of its formation in 1977 and the 41 Club for ex Tablers in the town celebrated its 30th birthday having been formed in 1987. To mark the occasion a Founders Dinner was held at the Hotel Metropole in Llandrindod Wells when the National Presidents of both organisations attended the dinner together with the National Secretary of Round Table.

Nearly fifty members attended the event and pictured above are the top table guests from the event together with current officers and officials of both clubs.

SOLIHULL GO WALKING ON WATER

Solihull 41 Club has a very active walking section, which sees members out and about every Wednesday, meeting up for an early coffee, then driving up to one hour to the start of the week's walk (invariably a pub) which is normally 6-8 miles. There is always a shorter option for slightly less active members to join up about halfway round the route, then everyone back to the pub for lunch and continued banter.

For over 20 years the walkers have also organised an annual walking weekend away, which enables members who work on Wednesdays to join in and enjoy the exercise and inevitable fellowship which makes 41 Club such fun. Every fifth year the walking weekend is abroad, previous destinations including Nerja in Spain and the Algarve in Portugal, both of which were masterpieces of organisation by John Mendil and David Whiting.

So, when John and David were persuaded to organise the 2017 weekend walk abroad everyone was a little gob-smacked to learn it was going to be on a ship, with the inevitable thoughts of "yeah, yeah, walking round the decks every day!!" How wrong they were.

The weekend turned out to be a very active one with walks around Suffolk on the Friday (on the way to the Ship), Bruges on the Saturday (having sailed to Zeebrugge overnight), Boulogne-sur-Mer on Sunday and Cambridge on the Monday, having disembarked back at Harwich early in the morning.

It was once again a magnificently organised trip, with John and David having gone to extraordinary lengths to ensure no stones were left unturned in piecing together the whole event and the packed daily itineraries for everyone to enjoy thoroughly. It was also remarkably good value for money (the deal struck with Fred Olsen on their Black Watch ship, including single occupancy twin cabins for everyone) at a cost for dinner, bed & breakfast considerably below what is normally charged by a half-decent hotel in the UK.

Watch out for a full report, with pictures from the adventure, in a future edition of the printed magazine!
